Paula is a go-to trial lawyer, as recognized by Chambers USA and Best Lawyers®, and recognized as one of the “Top 250 Women in Litigation” by Benchmark Litigation. Her clients have told The Best Lawyers in America® that “Paula is one of the best trial lawyers I have worked with. She easily grasps complex issues and is able to explain them to the fact finder in simple effective terms.”

Paula serves on the Firm’s Executive Committee and as past chair and member of the Women’s Leadership Initiative and focuses on representing businesses in complex civil litigation. She has represented clients in courtrooms across the country, before administrative agencies and in international and domestic arbitration forums to resolve a wide variety of disputes, including those concerning contracts and general business issues, business torts, consumer disputes, environmental issues, trademark issues, trade secret issues, product liability, telecommunications litigation, energy-related litigation, and numerous class actions.

Notable clients have spoken highly of Paula’s work ethic, including:

“Paula has represented Concentra for several years. During the time I have known her, she has provided the highest level of professional representation. She has a broad knowledge of the law and a clear handle on the practical aspects of litigation so that she is able to achieve the best result in the most efficient manner. I have been particularly impressed with Paula's excellent customer service - she is very responsive and is mindful of my time as well as hers. Paula is bright, articulate, and effective in making complex matters understandable - thereby allowing her client to analyze the company's position and make an informed decision about the matter. I highly recommend Paula Hinton." Mark Solls, Concentra Inc., Addison

Key Matters

One of Paula's most significant cases was for a waste disposal company in a case the Texas Lawbook touted as "one of the greatest defense victories in Texas history." Paula successfully defended against a US$4.8 billion environmental civil penalties lawsuit filed by Harris County and the State of Texas. After six weeks of trial and convincing the judge to toss two-thirds of the damage claims, Paula's powerful arguments ultimately secured a favorable settlement just minutes before closing arguments were scheduled to begin.

Paula's experience also includes:

- Successfully represented a wind farm company to obtain an injunction from landlord interference with lease operations.
- Successfully represented a purchaser of biomass power in a PPA dispute.
- Represented a major oil company in construction disputes before FERC and Alaska PUC.
- Helped client Kemco resolve a three-year contract suit by finding issues in a case that other lawyers had overlooked. After being stymied in court for years, Kemco hired Paula and, in less than two months, she suggested a solution which led to a successful motion to compel arbitration and, ultimately, a settlement.
- Represented a major oil company in a multi-million-dollar dispute before the Regulatory Commission of Alaska and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) relating to the prudence of a large scale construction project.
- Successfully represented a major oil company in a summary judgment relating to the construction of a 50-year-old contract and the obligations of the parties relating to Dismantle, Remove, and Restore (DR&R) responsibilities.
- Successfully defended a national gasoline retailer facing a breach of contract, tort, and RICO action brought by a terminated supplier in CPR arbitration and secured a take-nothing award.
- Successfully opposed several nationwide class certifications in consumer class actions for major oil companies across the country.
- Successfully represented a major defense contractor in a multimillion dollar breach of warranty matter in international arbitration.
- Successfully represented a major oil company in multi-million-dollar breach of contract fraud and RICO matter in arbitration.
- Successfully defended and obtained a take-nothing verdict for a major telecommunications company in a Federal Communications Act (FCA) suit; obtained judgment on all counterclaims.
- Successfully represented a major entertainment company in breach of confidentiality agreement and theft of trade secrets suit against former employees.
- Successfully defended and obtained summary judgment for a major telecommunications company in a fraud and FCA suit; secured judgments against third parties.
- Obtained in arbitration a favorable award on behalf of a major U.S. oil company relating to a claim of a right of first refusal to purchase real property; handled appeal relating to the award to the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals where it was affirmed, and certiorari was denied by the United States Supreme Court.
- Successfully defended and obtained a take-nothing verdict in a suit for a franchisor on fraud, promissory estoppel, and claims of wrongful termination.

- Obtained favorable resolution of state court class actions alleging improper pass through of property taxes on cable bills.

Recognitions

Paula has received many bar, industry, and community service honors and awards. In recognition of her extraordinary support and advocacy for the advancement of minorities, women, and LGBTQ+ people in the legal profession over the course of her legal work, Paula was the recipient of the most coveted diversity awards in the country, the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Texas Minority Counsel Program in 2021.

Paula has been highlighted in Chambers USA 2021–2022's "Spotlight Table" for her achievements as a Texas Trial Lawyer. She has been listed in The Best Lawyers in America® for mass tort litigation since 2008.

In a victory for civil and privacy rights in Texas, Paula provided pro bono representation in a five-year, long-fought battle for a lesbian high school student who was harassed and "outed" at age 16 by her coaches. She secured a US$77,500 settlement and changes to the district's policies relating to the privacy rights of students. Paula received the Kristi Couvillon Pro Bono Award from the Texas Civil Rights Project for her work on this matter.
