

Winston Serves as Trial Counsel in Monsanto Roundup Litigation

AUGUST 17, 2023

Winston has served as trial counsel to Monsanto in the Roundup litigation for years, starting with defending the company in the first trial in the country against allegations that the herbicide causes non-Hodgkin's lymphoma. Most recently, Winston secured a unanimous defense jury verdict in Oregon state, and defended the company in a trial involving pediatric leukemia in which the plaintiffs dismissed the lawsuit on the eve of trial. Winston serves a co-lead of the Roundup JCCP as it winds down in Alameda Superior Court, and manages cases throughout California.
