

Julissa Reynoso Named Co-Chair of New York Attorney General-Elect Letitia James' Transition Team

NOVEMBER 15, 2018

Winston & Strawn Litigation Partner Julissa Reynoso has been tapped by New York Attorney General-Elect Letitia James to co-chair her transition committee. Julissa and four esteemed co-chairs will be advising Attorney General-Elect James as she prepares Office initiatives and recruits top legal talent to constitute her team. Julissa's transition team co-chairs include: Loretta Lynch, Former United States Attorney General; Bob Abrams, Former New York State Attorney General; Hon. Jonathan Lippman, Chief Judge of the New York Court of Appeals; and Craig Bose, Dean of Syracuse University College of Law.

Julissa is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, a former United States Ambassador to Uruguay, and Assistant Secretary of State for Central American, Caribbean, and Cuban Affairs. She also served as Deputy Director, Office of Accountability, Department of Education of the City of New York. Julissa was also recently named to Columbia University's Board of Trustees.

At Winston, Julissa focuses on international arbitration, international litigation, and commercial litigation. She provides governments, financial institutions, companies and individuals with strategic advice and risk assessment in managing transnational issues. She was recognized in The Legal 500 U.S. for International Arbitration in 2018. Julissa is based in New York City.

1 Min Read

Related Locations

New York

Related Capabilities

Litigation/Trials

International Arbitration

Related Regions

Related Professionals

Julissa Reynoso