

Partner Keerthika Subramanian's Article Featured on Law360's Election Impact: The Top Guest Articles of 2024 List

JANUARY 3, 2025

An article co-authored by Winston & Strawn partner Keerthika Subramanian was featured on Law360's Election Impact: The Top Guest Articles of 2024 list. Following Donald Trump's election win, Law360 received a deluge of guest articles offering predictions for the incoming administration in key policy areas such as immigration, tax, energy, labor and competition, as well as potential congressional themes and investigations.

In Keerthika's article, she discusses how public company boards and directors should prepare for the new Trump administration. The article highlights the potential impacts of the proposed tariffs and the mass deportation of immigrants lacking permanent legal status and provides practical tips for boards and officers on how to uphold their fiduciary duties while addressing these policy challenges.
