

Future of Finance Webinar Series: Trump 2.0: A More FinTech-Friendly Regulatory Environment? Hosted by the American FinTech Council

FEBRUARY 27, 2025

On February 27, 2025, Winston & Strawn's Co-Chair of the FinTech, Banking & Payments Group, Juan Azel will be the moderator of the Future of Finance Webinar Series: Trump 2.0: A More FinTech-Friendly Regulatory Environment? Hosted by the American FinTech Council. Carl Fornaris, Co-Chair of the Financial Services Practice and FinTech, Banking & Payments Group will be featured as a panelist.

More than 30 days into President Trump's second term, this webinar will offer an in-depth review of recent developments in the fintech regulatory space and insights into potentially favorable conditions for banks and fintechs.

Panelists will touch on:

- Introducing the new agency heads: Who's in charge and what does this mean for the regulator landscape?
- Regulatory & compliance updates: The latest changes impacting our industry.
- Verdict on key final and proposed rules: A look at "midnight-made rules" and what they mean for you.
- Future of agency rulemaking: What's on the horizon?
- Supervision and enforcement priorities: Understanding the focus areas and potential implications.
