

Rosenthal Discusses the Impact of U.S. Data Privacy Laws on e-Discovery Practices

APRIL 12, 2012

John Rosenthal, chairman of Winston & Strawn's e-discovery and electronic information practice group, spoke on an Exterro e-discovery webcast titled "U.S. Privacy Laws & E-Discovery: Navigating a Brave New World." This presentation was held on April 12, 2012.

This webcast explored the challenges of managing e-discovery while accounting for U.S. privacy laws. The presenters offered best practices for responding to e-discovery requests involving potentially privileged data, including accessing electronically stored information (ESI) on social media sites.

Mr. Rosenthal was joined by David Sorensen of Hinshaw & Culbertson, LLP. Mike Hamilton, senior e-discovery market analyst at Exterro, moderated.
